FX is not a clone, it is a radio MADE OEM by futaba for Robbe. Software of FX30 is identical to FG12, and fx 40 is identical to 14mz. the benefit of those radios is the battery, which is much larger then the FG/MZ series (due physical limitation) for the modules.

The Fx-30 IMO is the better of the two as its fitted out with Lipo's as standard, you can physically move switches around the Tx just like the Mpx Tx's and the sliders are on the front of the Tx and IMO are better quality/feel than the FG-12. I would recommend you download both the Fx-30 & FG-12 manuals and study them.
