Hello all Just joined the site as Steel Soldiers was invaluable to my research on my trailer. Just picked a parkhurst 101a2 in great condition. It doesn't have surge brakes or parking brakes, so the owner either put in on a diet or it came that way. He said it had a generator mounted on it. Can someone please tell me what kind of trailer jack will fit on this frame mount?

If the M101a2 is only 45 1/2 between wells, maybe I could modify the wheel wells to get the extra few inches. The camper is an S250G electrical shelter, and I know i've seen them in the m101 trailer. How did they get it to fit? The length of the trailer is 6 7/8 too short, but I can deal with that, possibly lengthen the trailer by that much.
