Lifan 125cc Engine Review

My engine is chinese made, (SSR) copy of honda or yamaha mini 125 cc motor, It should be close to the same valve settings, but you should check with engine manufacturer. heck even 250cc bikes are .003-.005 mm, Millimeters not inches. Again, very little noise detection of valves is ever heard, if more than that, you need adjusting right away.

The Lifan 150 also has no electric start option (as least back when I did my conversion) because of the force it takes to turn the engine over). The Lifan 125 is known for being very reliable and long-lived.
